

Amy Currens

Amy was introduced to wine over 20 years ago, and dedicated herself full-time to the wine profession about five years ago. Studying under several Master Sommeliers, she became a certified sommelier a few years ago. “Being a wine director and sommelier is always challenging, exciting and a learning experience,” says Amy. “Wine is integral to daily life, for me, to accompany food, to celebrate, to converse, to connect with other people. I am grateful to be a part of the wine world.”
