

Haley Guild Moore

Haley Guild Moore became interested in pairing food and wine while traveling in Paris, which led to the start of her career in the restaurant business at sixteen. After obtaining a degree in hospitality and restaurant management at San Diego State University and a culinary certification in England, she returned to San Francisco. She is currently working towards a Master of Wine diploma and is responsible for the wine program at Spruce Restaurant, managing a list of 3,000 selections. Haley believes it is the combination of excellent food and food-friendly wine that creates camaraderie amongst the people who share it.

